

Why The Discovery House is the Best Addiction Treatment Center in California

FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

LOS ANGELES, CA, February 10th, 2015

When you love someone who is addicted to drugs or alcohol, you want the best addiction treatment available. What does it mean to be the best? The Discovery House, a luxury rehab facility, is among the best addiction treatment centers in California. There are a few things that set us apart from the many other available treatment options in Southern California.

Firstly, The Discovery House offers a full continuum of individualized care, which means we take care of our residents through every phase of drug or alcohol addiction treatment they will need to successfully complete our program. Instead of simply “getting through” the program, clients work with a customized treatment plan that works for them based on their individual needs. From sub-acute detox to an individualized aftercare treatment plan, The Discovery House is with you every step of the way.

We use a variety of modalities including the 12 step program for individuals that want to practice a life of sobriety. The Discovery House specializes in:

- Relapse Prevention
- Cognitive-behavioral Therapy
- Motivational Interviewing
- Trauma-related Counseling
- Rational Emotive Behavioral Therapy (REBT)
- And many others!

Additionally, the addiction treatment specialists at The Discovery House provide trauma-informed care and understand that many current behaviors and responses in addiction are ways of adapting to and coping with past traumatic experiences.

With a 3 to 1 client to counselor ratio, The Discovery House facility is staffed around the clock by certified counselors who work to make patients comfortable while they complete their treatment. We offer residential treatment and outpatient therapy to provide help for those in need of rehab for alcohol abuse, drug addiction therapy and co-occurring disorders treatment.

And lastly, we are a fully licensed, Joint Commission Accredited facility that is equipped to meet all the needs of our residents throughout the recovery process. Our certified counselors, support staff, and licensed vocational nurses, all work together with our clients as a team to provide treatment and recovery to all of our residents. The Discovery House's designation as a Joint Commission-accredited facility means we meet all inspection and safety standards that are required of hospitals in the United States. Fewer than six percent of all addiction treatment programs in the country are so accredited.

Here at The Discovery House, we offer the highest quality of services and we take all steps necessary to meet or exceed the requirements demanded of long-term treatment centers for addiction. When you enter substance abuse treatment at The Discovery House, you can rest assured that you will receive the best care possible at our professional facility.

If you or someone you love is struggling with an addiction, or if you have questions about our treatment facilities, call us today at 1 (855) 203-7930 and the treatment specialists at The Discovery House will help you to begin your path to long-term recovery and sobriety.
