

The Discovery House Co-Sponsored San Fernando Valley CAMFT Event

Treatment center participated in marriage and family therapists' event

Reseda, Calif. (PRWEB) January 20, 2014 -- The Discovery House was a co-sponsor of the San Fernando Valley Chapter of the California Association of Marriage and Family Therapists (SFV-CAMFT) event. The annual board member installation event, which took place on Jan. 19, 2014, was held at the Woodland Hills Country Club, in Woodland Hills, Calif.

The event brought together marriage and family therapists and other experts in the field to network and grow in their professional development. This year's theme was "Reviving Rhythm for the Mind, Body, and Soul," and featured guest speaker Christine Stevens. Participants had the opportunity to join in a "soulful, connected and transformative drum circle experience that inspired and rejuvenated." Christine Stevens, MSW, MT-BC, MA, holds masters degrees in both social work and music therapy. She is author of the new book, "Music Medicine, the Science and Spirit of Healing Yourself with Sound," and also "The Healing Drum Kit."

According to CAMFT's website, it is "dedicated to inspiring psychotherapists through educational opportunities, networking and support in order to better serve the community where we practice and live. We are a thriving professional organization of successful licensed Marriage and Family Therapists, interns and trainees who generously share their experience and expertise to support each other's growth and professional development." The Discovery House was honored to participate in this event. With marriage and family health experts from throughout the San Fernando Valley in attendance, the event helped The Discovery Staff extend their professional relationships across the Valley. Tom Whiting, Executive Director of The Discovery House said, "This event was a benefit to both The Discovery House and the professionals in attendance. Our desire for this event was to show experts that The Discovery House is an available resource for their practices, and we will be here to serve their clients when called upon."

The Discovery House is a drug and alcohol treatment facility located near Los Angeles, Calif. The center offers a variety of treatment programs that allow each client to receive the individualized care they deserve. The rehab center works with other professionals and therapists to provide a full continuum of care. To learn more about The Discovery House, visit <http://www.thediscoveryhouse.com/>.
